SOUVENIR

PORCELAIN PLACES

DAWN WALKER

Porcelain Places by regional artist Dawn Walker presents a new body of oil paintings that explore the popular appeal of souvenirs. Walker's interest extends beyond the souvenir itself and focuses on connection to place, and how this is transposed as a vignette onto domestic and utilitarian objects.

Throughout Walker's exhibition, miniature views of popular landscapes from the Tweed and surrounds can be seen centred and poised on each antique souvenir. These 'porcelain places' capture picturesque views as they were in the past, evoking a sense of nostalgia while simultaneously creating a new experience through Walker's recreation.

Walker enrolled in the Advanced Diploma of Fine Arts at Murwillumbah TAFE after moving to the North Coast from Melbourne. To her surprise, it was through her art that she found her voice for the environment and on completion of the course Walker became an environmental advocate and later an elected member of the NSW Parliament. Having served her parliamentary term, she returned to her artistic practice in her studio in Fingal Head, NSW, where she continues to create today.

Walker holds an Advanced Diploma of Fine Arts, 2011, Murwillumbah TAFE, and was awarded the Graduate Prize. She was selected as a finalist in Tweed Regional Gallery's Wollumbin Art Award 2022 and 2024, the BAM Art Prize 2022, and the Heysen Prize for Landscape, Hahndorf Academy, 2022. Walker has exhibited in various group shows including Small Works Gallery, Murwillumbah, Piece Gallery, Mullumbimby, Small Works Prize, Brunswick Street Gallery, Melbourne, and Yella Tail Studio, MArts, Murwillumbah.
